

GIVEN

Given is a unique board game that people of all ages will enjoy while learning about charity, giving, and Jewish culture.

.....

The game is a journey from Egypt through the Middle East to Jerusalem. Players study and answer questions about Judaism and get points for the correct answers. Throughout the game players will be able to donate game time and money – to do tzedakah. At the end of the game, players get points for the time and money that they donated. The player with the most total points in the end is the winner.

THE GAME

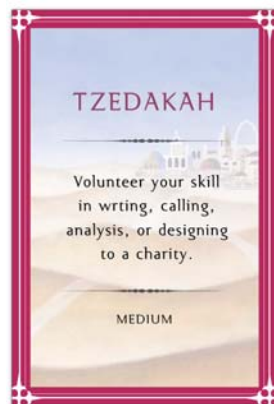

People who play the game will develop a much better understanding of Judaism and tzedakah, an understanding that carries directly from the game into the players' real lives.
